PRESS RELEASE For Immediate Release :

The spirit of discovery continues to intrigue Petrol Records Chairman, Chris Murphy and he has now unearthed yet another musical talent - a group of young international music stylists called PISTOL. These young stylists formed their company with the mandate - to find sounds for a brave new world. Chris Murphy has invested in PISTOL as part of his on-going passion to uncover diverse musical sounds.

PISTOL, under Chris Murphy's direction, will remain as an independent label established specifically for the digital market and will continue to search for the best emerging artists from around the world. "We are tremendously excited about this new partnership with PISTOL. These guys & gals live and breathe music and spend 24/7 searching out the best new sounds and artists that have emerged as a result of the digital era" said Chris Murphy. When asked if Murphy felt there was any conflict with his label, Petrol Records, Murphy smiled and said simply, "no, no not at all, PISTOL is like the very naughty younger brother or sister of Petrol Records."

Their debut release, FRESH WEIRD & WONDERFUL is an eclectic mix of artists from the UK, Munich, Barcelona, New York & Montreal. These vibrant young artists share the same raw, heartfelt, honest, do it yourself approach to music, creating their own distinct brand of indie.
